

CAYUGA COMMUNITY COLLEGE LIBRARY RESEARCH AWARD

PURPOSE: This award is intended to encourage and recognize student achievement in information literacy as evidenced in a research project submitted to a credit-bearing course offered by Cayuga Community College.

AMOUNT OF AWARD: A $200 award is given to the student whose project is selected by the evaluation committee. The recipient's name will be inscribed on a perpetual plaque displayed in the Library.

AWARD DATE: The award is given annually after the end of the spring semester.

ELIGIBILITY: Any member of the Cayuga faculty may submit a student research project after securing the student's permission to do so. Projects are submitted from the faculty member rather than from the student. A student who would like to have a project submitted should contact the faculty member who assigned the project. The research project must be submitted during the same academic year that the course was taken.

SUBMISSION: A print copy of the research project is submitted to the Library. Each project must include a submission form along with a copy of the assignment for which the paper was written. Student identification is covered before projects are reviewed by members of the selection committee.

SELECTION: Each research project is measured against these specific information literacy competencies:

- a focused topic or thesis statement
- use of varied and carefully selected sources of information
- logical analysis and presentation of information
- use of evidence to support conclusions
- correct and consistent use of a citation style.

EVALUATION COMMITTEE: The committee consists of the Cayuga Community College librarians.

Submission forms are available at the Library Reference desk.
