MUSIC

Cayuga's Music Program prepares students for a broad range of careers by emphasizing a combination of musical concepts, versatility and performance. It is designed for students planning to transfer into music programs at four-year colleges and universities.

The program provides students with a comprehensive foundation in music theory, musicianship, and applied music, as well as a solid liberal arts background. Students are encouraged to develop their own proficiency through a balance of technical skills, problem-solving strategies, conceptual development, and experimentation. Students also learn about the practical application of working in the field of music education and performance.
